

Katie Lagasse

Hello everyone, my name is Katie Lagasse. I am the Pre-K teacher here at the JCC. Our classroom name is Mishpacha, which means family. I have been teaching since I graduated from Edison College in 1994. My goal for each child in my classroom is to feel they are a part of a school family as they learn and grow in a relaxed atmosphere.

I practice an eclectic style of teaching, including: Reggio Emilia, project approach, cross curricular teaching, and STEAM. I respect that each child is an individual and approach their style of learning accordingly.

In my personal time I enjoy spending time with my family teenagers to eighty-year olds. I love coffee, wine, Mexican food, and cooking. In my spare time I enjoy reading, movies, gardening, playing with my dogs (all the time), metal detecting, and searching and discovering joy in this wide world.

Shalom to All,
Ms. Katie
