Monday- Welcome all you “wild things”!!! Splashing in the water is a beautiful beginning to our week. Today we made some wild art. The children made scribble pictures, colored them, and then added acrylic gemstones to throw in some bling. We also played the silly game Feed the Woosle. in this game you get to move in silly ways while balancing a yukky snack (something only a woosle would eat) on a spoon. Can you make it to the woosle’s mouth without dropping it? It was fun to play and fun to watch.

Tuesday- The children turned into chefs today by baking a cake and then decorating it with wild and crazy sprinkles and such...Another activity was creating a lift the flap safari game. The children used animal stickers and created a jungle path for a fun game of finding the animals.

Wednesday- We had a great trip to Bill Yeck Park where we went on a creek walk. The children found all kinds of “wild” creek life wondering the creek. We had our very own naturalists help us explore and identify some amazing creatures. The children found snails, snail eggs, shells, fossils and one very shy snake. We had to play the quiet game with the snake, when the children stood very still and quiet the snake stuck it’s head out for a while and gave us a good long gaze. All of us were amazed at how long it watched us.

Thursday- Today we read the story Where the Wild Things Are. This story is a classic and the children absolutely loved it. Our activity took most of the day when we weren’t playing or eating. The teachers traced the children on big sheets of paper and the children turned their full body silhouettes into their very own wild things. FUN, FUN, FUN!!!

Friday- LET THE WILD RUMPUS BEGIN (just like Max and the wild things). That’s right, our campers paraded through the whole school and around the playground causing quite a RUMPUS! We all made our own crowns so we could be kings and queens of the wild things. We had music with Ms. Mary and celebrated Shabbat to finish this fun wild week.
