

MUSICAL MAYHEM

Week Seven

“Wild Thing”

(Wild n Wacky)

SABRA

Monday- How wacky can we get with colors today? We started by making neon designs. We also explored our instrument basket, which included a mini xylophone. It was soon time to head out for some fun in the sun! Then we practiced working on a fun surprise for our families, and will continue to do so all week (the kids love it so far!). One book we read was How Do Dinosaurs Make Friends.

Tuesday- We started our day with a few new books and practiced for our special project later this week! Then it was time to head outside for our splash time. We worked on our colorful, sticky, and wacky art! One of our daily books was Ten Twinkly Stars.

Wednesday- Wednesday we had another campout, as quite a few friends missed last week and we wanted to do it for them! We added to the campfire and made a campfire craft using scissors and glue. Our friends loved the “tents” and played or read a book in them. A few of us wore wacky outfits or accessories on Wednesday! One book we read was The Gruffalo.

Thursday- It was a wacky and fizzy time with science! This is always popular in our classroom, exploring with vinegar, baking soda, and droppers. We mix colors together to add to the fun. We headed out for our sun fun and finished this week’s crafts. It is the day to complete our surprise for families! We also read Dusty Locks.

Friday- Shabbat Shalom! On Friday we started out with our swim and splash time. Then it was time for Shabbat with delicious challah and grape juice! We sang a Shabbat song and shared what we are thankful for this week. Next, we had music class with Ms. Mary and her guitar, Honey Jasmine. Have a great weekend! See you next week for “monsters come in all colors”!

Sincerely,
Ms. Andrea, Ms. Chloe, and Ms. Joyce
